Report of Principal and School Improvement Council

It has been a very successful year at Batesburg-Leesville Elementary School (BLES). The BLES learning community continues to prepare students academically and behaviorally to be productive citizens.

This year, BLES worked to make the school climate more positive. The BLES staff implemented Positive Behavior Interventions Supports (PBIS) as a means of increasing positive behaviors and decreasing negative behaviors at BLES. Our first year of implementation was extremely successful. The learning environment was much more positive, and the number of discipline referrals to the office was cut in half this year. BLES also continued to focus on a positive character education trait each month and selected a student from each class to be recognized for his/her exemplary behavior as it related to the character education trait of the month. BLES continued to provide a "family friendly" atmosphere. The school's appearance and customer service paved the way for BLES to receive a Red Carpet Award for 2010-13.

BLES also experienced and celebrated many positive outcomes in academics this year. The School Report Card and AYP results showed tremendous improvements. Teachers, staff, and students were recognized and rewarded frequently for their efforts to increase student achievement. The school boasted five USC Regional Science Fair winners, five SC Honors Choir participants, and the winning fourth-grade team in the SC Mathfest competition.

BLES sought to improve instruction in mathematics through the implementation of the Everyday Math program and the formation of a school Math Club. BLES sought to improve in the area of writing through increased staff development in writing and a greater focus on writing in the classroom.

BLES continued its dedication to teaching students how to preserve and take care of the environment. Rain barrels were added to the school's SC Butterfly Garden and students, staff, and the greater community continued their recycling efforts. This commitment to the environment resulted in BLES being named the Department of Health and Environmental Control's (DHEC's) SC Recycling School of the Year.

Students and staff learned more about how to integrate the arts into the regular classroom through the school's arts grants. Students and staff attended theater and musical events, and staff participated in arts integration staff development.

It was a successful year at BLES and staff, students, and the greater community turned a corner on their way to excellence.
